

4-H Sustainable Living Schools & Clubs Program

The 4-H Sustainable Living Schools and Clubs Program provides a wealth of resources to assist you in creating wide variety of sustainable living projects.

Through 4-H programming, children are empowered to make positive contributions with in their families, communities, country and world as they lead the way in creating the environmental, social and economic success stories of the future.

4-H Member Youth also have ongoing opportunities to get involved in 4-H programs and activities outside their club such as summer residential and day camps, leadership conferences, family fun days, volunteer appreciation events and more.

Services 4-H provides to club and school volunteers include...

- Curriculum Support: Research-based curriculum
- Educational Kits: FREE access to educational kits
- Ongoing 4-H Trainings: Ongoing leader training is available
- On-site 4-H Faculty Consultation
- Monthly newsletters and Updates
- Opportunities to Apply for 4-H Mini-Grants
- Liability and Fiscal Management

Club Projects may include a variety of subjects such as:

- Vegetable gardens
- Wildlife habitat gardens
- Garden to kitchen program
- Renewable energy
- Natural discovery
- Hands-on science
- Small animals
- Urban livestock
- Cooking/nutrition
- and more!

Steps to getting started:

- 1) Organize 3 or more parent volunteers or teachers who are interested in leading a club or program
- 2) Contact the 4-H office (contact information below) to discuss your club's options and set up a training date
- 3) Fill out and return 4-H Volunteer Forms for all parent volunteers
- 4) Schedule 3 hour training with 4-H staff
- 5) Training is free for all parent volunteers
- 6) Annual fee $25.00 per student member (scholarships available)

4-H Youth Development, Metro 4-H
 Phone: 503-916-6074 Fax: 503-916-2676
 E-mail: Maureen.hosty@oregonstate.edu
 Website: www.4hwildlifestewards.org

4-H Youth Program c/o Sunnyside School
 3421 SE Salmon Ave., Portland, OR 97213

4-H is a community of young people across America who are learning leadership, citizenship and life skills

Extension Service